Over the next two years, CFA UK want to engage with younger members in a way that meets their needs. The Next Generation Networks are being formed with the purpose of supporting this part of the membership to achieve professional career progression. Each Network will focus on a key job function in the investment profession. We define a Next Generation member as someone within the first 10 years of their career.

We are now looking to recruit for a new Next Generation Network Leadership Group for equity analysts. We are looking to our next generation members to help us shape and grow this network of younger equity research professionals.

Purpose and activities of the leadership team:

- To create and grow an active network where members working in equity research can make contacts and gain more understanding and knowledge of their job function, other firms and access peer support.
- To coordinate a series of up to four events across any membership year (one events for 2018/19) around career development in equity research

Who are we looking for?

- Members in the first 10 years of their careers working in equity research
- Volunteers who see the value of growing a network of next generations members
- Volunteers who would like to create and/or curate relevant content
- Availability throughout the membership year to work to move ideas forward between meetings
- Ability to work with a group to shape ideas.
- Understanding of what would interest the Next Generation membership

How CFA UK will help:

CFA UK will support you to grow your network through supporting you with marketing, using all our communication channels including the membership newsletter, volunteering bulletin, social media and our website.

CFA UK will also coordinate the logistics for one of your key events in any membership year.

What you will gain:
