

Stewardship Code - Working Group Member

No. of Volunteers required:	Up to 10
Timeframe:	Until 30 April 2019 (3 months)
Commitment:	c.30 hours across the Timeframe
Reports to:	Professionalism Steering Committee

10 years on from the global financial crisis and capitalism is still looking for answers:

- To what extent should company directors work in the interests of all stakeholders, rather than just shareholders?
- Besides profit, what should a 'good' company produce?
- What role should asset owners and asset managers play in shaping company strategy?
What is effective stewardship?
- What information do asset managers and asset owners each need (both to give and receive) in order to carry out (and be seen to carry out) effective stewardship?
- What is a fair and proportionate reporting burden to impose on our listed corporate sector, asset owners and asset managers to achieve effective stewardship?

Play your role in the national debate by joining a CFA UK working group responding to (i) the FRC's consultation into the Stewardship Code (2019); the FCA's consultation on proposals to improve shareholder engagement (CP19/07) and (iii) the FRC and the FCA's joint consultation on building an effective framework for stewardship (DP19/01).

The purpose and activity of this working group is to:

- Respond to the FRC's and FCA's consultations
- Seek feedback from members' own networks and CFA contacts
- Survey the CFA UK membership

Who we are looking for?

- Members with an interest in corporate governance and ESG
- Knowledge and experience in stewardship and investment processes
- Members available c.10hrs/month for 3 months, now to end-March / end-April, 2019

What will you get out of it?

- An opportunity to meet and network with peers interested in this topic
- Share your experience and knowledge
- Be part of and acknowledged in a published consultation report
- Learn from other industry professionals
- Training in group working and/or leadership

To apply, please send a completed volunteer application form and a copy of your CV to volunteer@cfauk.org.

Deadline for applications: 12/2/19
